

A 21 ms step of audio (two log-mel frames, 256 numbers) becomes four integers, one per codebook, coarse to fine.
Decoding sums the four chosen centroids; each level removes part of what the previous levels missed.